Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

The indicated allowability of claims 1-4, 6-9 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Brown (United States Patent No. 3,908,268). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Brown (United States Patent No. 3,908,268).

Brown discloses a trimming tool having first and second handles 11,12; first and second cutting jaws 13, 14 and a clip 10. The clip 10 is attached to one of the jaws at 20 (see figure 6) and has a second end 22 extending over the jaw and having a cutting edge 26 that is “knife-like” (see co. 1, line 52 and col. 3, line 1). Regarding claim 4, the clip is generally S-shaped (see figure 4). Regarding claim 6, the clip is flexible and configured to flex upward as an object is cut (see figures 6-8).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3732

Claims 2, 3, and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown in view of Jansson et al (United States Patent No. 4,404,746).

Brown discloses the invention essentially as claimed except for the spring. Jansson et al. disclose a trimming tool having a spring interposed between the handles. The spring comprises first and second leaf springs attached to one another at one end and having their other end attached to a respective handle (see figures 5 and 6). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the tool of Brown with a spring interposed between the handles in view of Jansson et al. in order to bias the jaws toward the closed configuration.

Claims 13-17 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Makkay et al. disclose a cutting tool having a clip with a sharpened edge extending over one of the jaws so as to retain clippings.
